February 15, 1902.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD OF THE TOWN OF EPSOM.

As the 15th of February draws near each year, your school board is reminded that an account of their stewardship, a school report, will soon be in order. We have maintained six schools the past year, with a general length of twenty-nine weeks each, and employed nine teachers, one male and eight female. In four of our schools we have retained the same teachers during the entire year. It gives us pleasure to say, that none of our schools have been seriously interrupted the past year from any cause; if we except a little unpleasantness in the spring term of the North Road school and the fall term of the Gossville school, "all has been calm as summer evenings be," and the schools have been eminently successful, and scholars have made commendable progress in their studies.

Miss Dame, teacher of the North Road school during the spring term, is a good scholar; her method of imparting instruction is excellent, and her every precept and example tends to lead the youthful mind into paths of rectitude and virtue, and we think that the withdrawal of pupils from her school was uncalled for and unjustifiable. But as the pupils withdrawn were residents of the school district of Deerfield, it was not our province to require them to return to school as we should have been expected to do had they been residents of our own school district. Had Miss Dame made the same effort and manifested the same determination to assert her authority as teacher, early in the term that she did toward the close of the term, we think good success would have crowned her efforts.

When a person assumes the position of "teaching the young idea how to shoot," the first and all-important duty for the acquirement of anything is order, and all that follows is secondary. "Order is heaven's first law," is a time-honored maxim, and it should be the first and highest law in the schoolroom. Teachers in governing schools should have but few rules, and those duly enforced. They should ever impress upon their scholars that the observance of the rules is for their good; that nothing is required of them but that which will be for their benefit in future years; thus they will have loyal scholars, and the country in a few years loyal men and women.

There was a case of insubordination in the Gossville school, wherein one of the boys refused, as we were told, to comply with a reasonable request of the teacher. Miss Rand is a first-class teacher and disciplinarian, but thought at one time she would have to call upon the school board to expel the disobedient youth from school. But the matter was adjusted without the intervention of the school board, and the school became orderly and prosperous again; we hope the scholar will never again stand in the way of a favorable report.

So many important geographical changes have been made in various parts of the world within the past few years, that it was deemed necessary to change our old geographies for some up to date work; after carefully examining various kinds we were fully convinced that the Revised Edition of Harper's geographies were the best adapted to the wants of our schools, and we adopted them. They are proving satisfactory to teachers and scholars, and a deep interest has been taken in the study of them.

Krüsi's Drawing (Analytic Series) has been continued as a study the past year, and fine specimens of drawing were produced in nearly all our schools.

During the year the North Road schoolhouse and shed have been shingled, and the schoolroom and entry have been plastered and painted, making as neat and comfortable a place for a school as one could wish. Weekly report cards were used each term in all our schools, giving parents an opportunity to see each week how their children were doing in school, and stimulating scholars to make greater effort to rank high in their studies and deportment.

The school registers contain the names of a large number of visitors, which shows that a deep interest is taken in our schools. Such visits are encouraging to teachers and scholars. "As iron sharpeneth iron, so does a man's presence sharpen the countenance of his friend." Scholars and teachers need your sympathy, they need your encouragement.

We have every inducement to give liberal support to our schools. From them have gone forth many business and professional men deserving respect and honor, and may we not expect as good results from them in the future as we have had in the past? The town has each year, for a goodly number of years in the past, raised for the support of schools a sum much larger than the law requires. Let us hope that the same generous spirit will be manifested for them in the future as in the past. Franklin says, "an investment in knowledge always pays the best interest." The sums annually expended for the support of schools have, more than aught else, made us what we are ; they have returned to us, as interest, an amount of good which cannot be estimated or measured.

The number of children in town of each sex, by selectmen's enumeration in April, 1901, is : boys, 46 ; girls, 41.

For length of schools, names and wages of teachers, number of scholars in each school, and average attendance, etc., you are referred to a tabular statement on another page, all of which we trust may receive your careful attention, and we hope approval.
